Exercises

Discuss the following topics in groups :

Question 1:

Why did the wise old bird say, "Chandni is the winner" ?

Answer:

Though Chandni was smaller and less stronger than the wolf, yet she gave a very good fight. She was not coward. She stood firm on her legs and was a picture of courage. She behaved like a brave soldier. Though in the end she lost, still she was courageous enough to face the wolf. I think that is why the wise old bird said that Chandni was the winner.

Question 2:

"Death in an open field is better than life in a small hut," Chandni said to herself. Was it the right decision ? Give reasons for your answer.

Answer:

I think Chandni's decision was right. Freedom is always better than the imprisonment. While in the hut, Chandni had lost appetite and had grown thin. She told Abbu Khan that she would die if she won't go to the hills.

She would have never remained happy at Abbu's house. Though we feel sad over her death, but she died a brave soldier's death. In the end she kept her head high and died as a free creature.

Question 3:

Freedom is life. Discuss this with reference to 'Chandni' and 'I Want Something in a Cage.'

Answer:

It is right that freedom is life and slavery is a curse. Not only human beings, but animals and birds also crave for freedom. If a bird is kept in a cage it can never feel happy even if it is tied with golden chains. In the story 'I Want Something in a Cage' the stranger buys the doves and sets them free immediately thereafter.

He did so because after having remained in prison for so long, he realised the importance of freedom. In the same way for Chandni freedom is life. She was aware that she might be killed. Even then she preferred to go to the hills and the green fields.
